LSM Mediation Training in London - Course Outline 2013

The London School of Mediation presents a mediation training course that meets and exceeds all current and anticipated UK standards - and is recognised around the world as superb. There are 40 hours of contact time, independent assessments, an examination, and graduation days with observations. All of this is delivered with the unique advantage of the materials being provided that are current and tested by practitioners.

"Simply the best training course I have ever done." QC - 2011

Course Schedule - 25 hours BSB/SRA CPD Points

LSM's courses follow the highly successful model it has introduced and seen adopted around the world with a 1:6 tutor to delegate ratio and internationally renowned leaders. The days are intensive but time flies by such is the quality of the tutors and the sheer immersion and excitement of the subject.
